INTRODUCTION

At the very edge of the Arctic Circle lies Arjeplog. A sub-zero wilderness, this hidden corner of Sweden plays host to a truly unique driving experience. At 66° 03'06" N, 17° 53'09" E, this small town of fewer than 2,000 people feels like it could be on another planet.

Acres of frozen lakes give way to stunning vistas and epic landscapes. Dense forests and deep snowbanks twist the winter sunlight, further enhancing this bewitching place. Visit at the right time of year and you may even get a glimpse of Aurora Borealis, the world-famous Northern Lights. With a setting like this, we can promise that it won't just be the cold air that will take your breath away.

OVERVIEW

The Ice Academy is all about thrill. It's your opportunity to drive our SUVs and sports cars to their fullest capability and truly immerse yourself in your surroundings with a range of extraordinary lifestyle activities.

With programmes catering to every level of expertise, you'll come away with invaluable skills no matter your previous winter driving experience. The Ice Drive programme provides the perfect introduction to cold-weather driving. It is available as a standard three-day trip, or alternatively select as a 'Plus' experience for four days of excitement.

As an extra treat, you'll also be given privileged access to our cold-weather testing centre. This extremely exclusive facility is where we subject our new models to the toughest extremes to make sure they're up to the task of facing winters all around the globe.

For our most flexible and compact experience, Ice Drive Lite gives you the chance to tailor the afternoon of a full day of driving to your own bucket-list expectations. Whichever programme you choose, you'll be able to hone your skills in a wide selection of our vehicles.

What's more, our plus-one package gives non-driving companions the chance to share your holiday of a lifetime, inclusive of meals, accommodation, lifestyle activities and cultural experiences.

CLIMATE

Arjeplog’s subarctic climate is typical of Northern Sweden, and so tends not to lend itself to shorts and flip-flops. Although the winters are somewhat moderated by the North Atlantic jet stream, temperatures have still been known to drop to as low as -30°C, making it the perfect place to experience authentic Scandinavian winters, with deep snow and dense evergreen forests.

Because Arjeplog sits just below the Arctic Circle, it experiences on average just three hours of daylight per day in early January, and long periods when it simply doesn’t get dark at all due to the height and angle of the sun in the sky.

The Ice Academy takes place in February and March. You can expect to experience between five to eight hours of sunlight per day during your visit.
